HONORS GIVEN TO STATESBORO GIRL

Miss Betty Bird Foy Named As One Of Sixteen Girls In South-Wide Beauty Contest

Statesboro is particularly honored, and all of South Georgia shares with her in the thrill which grows out of distinction which has been accorded within the week to a Statesboro young lady—Miss Betty Bird Foy, daughter of Mrs. J. P. Foy and the late Mr. Foy.

This honor attaches to the designation of Miss Foy as one of the sixteen Southern girls selected to compete in a South-wide beauty contest at Memphis, Tenn., next Monday for the selection of 1946 Maid of Cotton being sponsored by the National Cotton Council. Notice of her unsolicited appointment to this group was conveyed in a telegram received by her last Wednesday. Friends have taken the matter up with vigor, and the various organizations of Statesboro—Chamber of Commerce, Rotary, Junior Chamber and Lions—have joined with city officials in the raising of sufficient funds to defray the expenses of Miss Foy and her mother for the round trip, leaving here Saturday.

The Atlanta Journal of Sunday carries the item below which tells more fully of the occasion:

"Statesboro, Ga., Dec. 29.—Miss Betty Bird Foy, one of Statesboro's prettiest belles, has been selected as one of sixteen finalists in the 1946 Maid of Cotton contest by the National Cotton Council.

"Miss Foy will go to Memphis January 7 to appear before the judges who will name one of the finalists 'Cotton Queen.' Only two girls were selected from Georgia, the other being Miss Betty Fitts, of Atlanta.

"Miss Foy's family has long been associated with the cotton industry. Her father, the late J. P. Foy, was a large cotton planter and the operator of several cotton gins in Bulloch county. Her great-grandfather, W. W. Olliff was one of the earliest and largest cotton farmers in this section.

"Her uncle, Inman M. Foy, of Statesboro, is president of the Georgia Cotton Ginners' Association.

"This is by no means the first beauty honor won by Miss Foy, who is a student at the University of Georgia. She was queen of the Statesboro High School carnival in 1943; was in the beauty section of the 1944 Reflector, annual of the Georgia Teachers College, and has been chosen for the beauty section of the 1946 Pandora, University of Georgia yearbook.

"Her mother, the former Miss Doll Bird, of Metter, lives in Statesboro.

While the foregoing story is quite replete, it is worthy to be added further that on her mother's side of the family, Miss Foy has a cotton record dating back into history. It was on Sherman's famous march to the sea as he was burning his path through this section that he passed through the community of Emmaline, in the lower edge of Emanuel county, and came upon a store and gin operated by Mrs. Liverberry Johnson, whereupon he touched off a match which sent the store and gin into smoke. Mrs. Johnson was the great-great-grandmother of Mrs. Foy. But Sherman had not destroyed her zeal. With her business in ashes, she turned her steps in another direction, went to Louisville, Ga., and studied medicine and herself became a physician.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS TO ENTERTAIN DEACONS

The Baraca class of the First Baptist church will be host to the deacons of the Ogeechee River Association, which comprises twenty-six Baptist churches in Bulloch county. The meeting is for planning a more aggressive evangelistic campaign in the county through Sunday schools, youth organizations and the Baptist churches of this area. The speaker of the evening will be E. N. Uphaw. Dinner will be served in the church basement at 7:30 p. m. Every Baraca of the First Baptist church is urged to be present and all deacons and pastors of the church are cordially invited to attend.

REVENUE OFFICIALS TO ASSIST FARMERS

The zone office of the collector of internal revenue, located in the post-office building in Statesboro, will be open each day between January 2nd through January 15 for the purpose of assisting farmers in the preparation of their income tax returns for the year 1945, it was announced here today by Marion H. Allen, collector of internal revenue. Mr. Allen suggests that farmers whose gross income for 1945 was $500 or more who want assistance between January 2 through January 15 should have ready the following information: A prepared statement showing total income from each class of farm produce and any other sources; a statement showing total amount of each class of expenditures, each item of expense to be itemized and totaled for the year.

RUSSELL SPEAKER AT BUREAU MEET

Bulloch Farm Organization To Stage Mammoth Day At Teachers College Saturday

Senator Richard B. Russell will address the Bulloch county Farm Bureau in its annual meeting Saturday in the Georgia Teachers College auditorium.

W. H. Smith Jr., president of the local organization, stated that the meeting will start at 10 a. m., with the financial report, report of the resolutions committee and election of officers for 1946. Mrs. W. D. Lee will direct the music for the occasion. Mrs. Lee has organized and developed a rhythm band at the Brooklet school that has attracted considerable attention that will provide the music.

H. L. Wingate, president of the Georgia Farm Bureau and one-time roommate of Senator Russell's in college, will introduce the speaker about 11 a. m.

Mrs. Joe S. Ray, president of the Associated Women of the Georgia Farm Bureau, will attend the meeting, along with Herbert Woodruff, director of organization and research for the Farm Bureau, and H. R. Yandle, director of public relations.

County Farm Bureau presidents, county agents, and vocational teachers from all the counties in the First congressional district have been invited to the meeting and most of them have written Mr. Smith that they will attend.

W. S. Brown, director of the Agricultural Extension Service; J. N. Baker, district supervisor of vocational education; Dr. George King, president of Abraham Baldwin College and director of the Coastal Plains Experiment Station; Dean Paul W. Chapman, of the College Agriculture; W. T. Bennett, agricultural agent of the Central of Georgia, and other leading agriculturist will attend the meeting.

L. G. Banks, president of the West Side community club will make the report of the nominating committee, which is composed of the entire membership of the community presidents, and J. H. Metts, president of the Middleground community, will give the report on resolutions.

Mr. Smith stated that to date Bulloch county has 1,528 Farm Bureau members, the largest number any county in Georgia has ever enrolled. He expressed the hope that the families that have joined this year will be well represented at the meeting; not only farm families, but those in the county that are interested in the farmers' problems that are not actually farming.

Mr. Smith stated to the nominating committee he could not serve in 1943, due to the time necessary to carry on the duties of the state board of directors. The nominating committee is prepared to submit a recommendation calling for the election of a new president as well as other officers, according to Mr. Banks.

PLEASING COLORS FOR COURT HOUSE

Delicate Pea Green Is Final Shade For Inside Walls of the Building

Nothing ever just happens without cause, even though sometimes the starting motive may appear remote. Now, there's all that pleasant coloring in the court house! You'd wonder how it started, and where it's going to end up, eh?

Well, we are not able to answer both questions, but our reasoning is that there have been two causes which contribute to the pleasing improvement—some ladies in the court house chiefly, and numerous grand jury recommendations in addition.

Gradually since the emancipation of women, public places have changed colors and conditions. Some things have been made more beautiful, and other things merely more efficient. Wherever there are women of taste, there is sure to be a revolution sooner or later.

In the court house for years and years Miss Hattie Powell and Miss Rowena Beall have been giving dignity and charm, along with efficiency, to the clerk's office. Over in the school superintendent's office there have been also two ladies—Mrs. Walter Odum and Miss Virginia Atkins—who rendered efficient help while maintaining a tidiness that only the hands of cultured women are capable of giving.

Even long years before that Fred Hodges had come into the office of county commissioners and permitted his wife to come in and assume the responsibility for his office tidiness. How far he intended for her to go, we are not sure, but as years have multiplied her authority has seemed to expand—as seems fitting where women are ever permitted—and from time to time changes have been made here and there which seemed to declare, "Watch out, a woman's around!" Not once, but several times the interior has changed its shades, and today—well, you ought to see the walls!

And then effeminacy broke out in a new place when, beginning with January of last year, Stothard Deal brought his school-teacher wife into the sheriff's office and placed her in charge of his records. As happens with most thoughtful women, a cleaning-up was her first thought. It was but a matter of a few days before she began sweeping under the tables, moving rubbish out, discarding useless tables—and bringing order out of chaos which had run through several masculine regimes. Did everybody like it? Well, some of the old hangers-on quit hanging on, and it seemed like a different place.

Then last fall there was a total rearrangement of the sheriff's office. Desks were moved, floors were covered, and the last vestige of past ages was removed. Timid men hardly dared to even peek inside the front door—but even then they liked what they saw.

Nothing above said should be construed as intention to overlook the feminine influence of Mrs. Cora DeLoach, for so many years attached to the collector's department. There is no discounting the fact that her presence in the court house has long been an influence for good.

Last week we walked into the corridor of the court house and smelt paint which almost knocked us down. All around painters were at work—not one, but many. The walls were bright and cheerful in those pea green tints which speak of youth and harm. It had come to pass that the entire interior was having a housecleaning. The Browns were on the job. They said they would guarantee that these colors would never fade, and that the paint would never come off. Those who believe that, can; as for ourselves, we do not expect the court house to ever again get back

County P-T A. Council Will Meet At Esla

The regular January meeting of the Bulloch County Council of P-T. A. will be held at the Esla school on Saturday, January 12th, at 11 o'clock. Mrs. Lee Howard, director of the seventh district, will be guest at the meeting. Each local president is urged to have at least two delegates present. Mrs. Carl Starling, president of Esla P-T. A., and Mrs. L. M. Clontz, principal of Esla school, will have charge of the program for the day. Will you show your appreciation to the Esla community for the effort they are putting forth to make this meeting one of the best we've had by having your delegation present? We're hoping to see each local representative.

LED THE MUSIC AT CHICAGO MEETING

Statesboro Leader Given High Praise For His Skill As Director of Clubbers

Friends of George P. Donaldson (known intimately by all the people within his local realm as "Pete") have been interested to read the newspaper comments concerning his recent work as musical director at the Boys' and Girls Club National Convention in Chicago, which convened the early part of December.

By direction of a Georgian, Willis A. Sutton, Mr. Donaldson was placed in charge of the entire musical program in which twelve hundred clubsters participated vocally. The comment is that he made a reputation for leadership of which any person might well be proud. In a personal letter written after the convention, Mr. Sutton declared that he was more than thrilled with the manner in which he discharged the duties of the occasion. The mapy adjectives used by Mr. Sutton left no words to be desired, and friends of "Pete" Donaldson are sure that he deserved every word said of him—for that's a way "Pete" has of meeting every requirement of any situation into which he is thrown.

And while making this mention about the Donaldsons, it is of interest to their friends to learn of their intense suspense in regard to the whereabouts of their son, George P. Jr., who has been in service overseas for the past two years or more, and who has been expected to arrive home in the past several weeks—prior to Christmas. His parents have been on suspense because of loss of contact with him for the past five weeks, at which time he was in Japan. It is also interesting to know that young George had recently been advanced to rank of major, and had been given a citation "for meritorious conduct in operations against the enemy," this citation coming direct from the hands of C. W. Nimitz, Fleet Admiral, U. S. Fleet.

PICKLE BUSINESS GROWS IN BULLOCH COUNTY

The Statesboro Pickle Company is commencing its fourth year of business in Statesboro as buyers and packers of cucumbers. They expect to contract about 500 acres for the 1946 crop. This gives the farmers an opportunity for a good income from an easily grown crop, and as the prices are always guaranteed to the grower he does not have to worry about the prices he will get for his crop when it is ready for market. Fred E. Gerrald, manager, states that his company expects to can a part of their crop in Georgia this year.

to the drab, stained colors of the days gone by. There are women in charge, and we like the looks and the smell of the court house. Who is responsible? The women gradually moved in, and then a number of grand juries adopted resolutions which seemed to authorize the renovation.

HOUSING NEED IS FOUND NOT ACUTE

City and County Defer Action On The Proposition To Take Over Local Field

The matter of taking over the facilities of the local airfield by the county and city as a solution to the recognized housing problem, has been temporarily deferred.

The proffer of the property for this use came recently upon application of Mayor Dorman to the federal authorities, and was given quite serious study. The offer of the property, which included the houses on the field with facilities for something like forty families, was restricted to the use of the property by ex-servicemen and their families, and required that the rates of rental should be such that no profit should be made above the cost of operation. A survey revealed that the fixed charges of operation would be around $1,000 per month, and that the prorata cost, therefore, would be around $25 per unit for the shanty-like accommodations. Inquiry was made, and there developed very little interest in the proposition on the part of servicemen. Fewer than a dozen applications were received, and these limited as to permanency—to be occupied only till other quarters could be procured.

With this uncertainty as to the usefulness of the property, it was decided best to postpone action for the time being, inasmuch as the officials were unwilling to assume obligation which stood to involve a loss. In addition to the monthly cost of maintenance, it was found that the cost of installing sewerage and lights on the property would amount to around $5,000—itsself an item to be seriously considered.

HOME-BUILDERS' PLANNING COURSE

Classes To Be Organized Following Meeting Tuesday Evening at Teachers College

The first general meeting of citizens interested in the home planning course to be given by the Georgia Teachers College will be held Tuesday evening, January 8, at 8 p. m., in the library at the college.

The first meeting is planned to bring together all those interested in taking the course. At the meeting the place of instruction, length of the course and the frequency of meetings will be decided.

It is the plan of the college to bring specialists from all fields of home building to the class meetings from time to time. The major emphasis of the course, which will be given under the direction of Dr. Ivan Hostetler, will be on planning a home. Dr. Hostetler, however, wishes it to be known that the college is not competing with contractors, electricians or architects and the college has no intention of offering anything that will take the place of an architect.

WAS THIS YOU?

You have brown eyes and hair. Wednesday afternoon you wore a black cloth coat with grey and black fur collar, black shoes and bag, and a small cerise hat. You have three sons.

If the lady described will call at the Times office she will be given two tickets to the picture, "Christmas in Connecticut," showing today and Friday at the Georgia Theater. It's a picture she will like.

After receiving her tickets, if the lady will call at the Statesboro Floral Shop she will be given a lovely orchid with compliments of the proprietor, Mr. Whitthurst.

The lady described last week was Mrs. Glenn Jennings. She attended the picture Friday afternoon, and later phoned to express appreciation for the tickets and the orchid.

CARMAN TELLS OF WINNING MEDALS

"Lots of Fellows Had The Same Experience," Says Statesboro Soldier Lad

Fort McPherson, Ga., Dec. 21.—"Lots of fellows had the same experience," said T/Sgt. Jack A. Carman, liaison pilot, when questioned, while being processed for separation at Fort McPherson, about the action that led to his winning the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with two clusters.

T/Sgt. Carman stated, "Received the D.F.C. for rescuing a downed pilot behind Jap lines. The pilot had made contact with us through some natives, he was in surprising good condition when we flew in and picked him up."

The Air Medal and clusters were for a combination of deeds. These included "flying in" Burmese espionage agents for work behind the enemy's lines and picking them up again at appointed times. Another duty of Carman was the evacuation of wounded men who needed medical attention immediately.

"We rescued a whole brigade one time," related Carman. "The Japs had them completely surrounded. It was our job to get these fellows out."

During this incident, the Japs held the high positions overlooking the brigades' position—when the plane flew out it had to go through heavy enemy anti-aircraft fire. "We had to fly in and out of a lot of little air strips and streams," Carman told, "the places that had only one entrance which was also the exit. When you came to something like that you had to judge your distance and just keep trying till you got it right."

The sergeant belonged to the 127th Liaison Squadron Commando Group which was attached to the British 14th Army. As T/Sgt. Carman received the discharge that will end sixty months of military service, thirteen months of which were spent overseas, he intends to hurry home to his wife in Statesboro, Georgia, and then to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Carman, of 913 North Cullen street, Senselseller, Indiana.

Oldest Sister Passes

The EDITOR OF TIMES Monday received word of the death of the night preceding of his oldest sister, Mrs. Carrie E. Nelson, at her home in Clearwater, Fla. The announcement of her death was entirely unexpected, she having written her usual cheering Christmas greeting on a few days preceding.

Mrs. Nelson, oldest of a large family of brothers and sisters, was seventy-seven years old last September, being the first of the three families of children left by her father, the late A. C. Turner, and the first of the family of nine left by her mother, Keziah Frances Kilgore Turner, who died sixty years ago on December 26th. Of this family of nine, she and five others attained what is recognized as old age. The others in order of their ages being Mrs. Manie Elizabeth Crane, Tampa, Fla.; D. B. Turner, of this paper; J. Henry Turner, of Oakland, Calif.; Mrs. Estelle Converse, Atlanta, Ga.; and Dr. A. Fred Turner, of Jacksonville, Fla. Her two youngest sisters are Eugene, Alfred, Robert Barnett and Joe Turner and Mrs. Leo Martin, Clearwater; Walter Parker and Nellie Turner, Rochester, N. Y.

She also survived by her aged husband, Albert S. Nelson, and a large family of sons, daughters, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Living all her days within a stone's throw of her birthplace, in recent years her home had been recognized as the family nest in which members of the family sought occasionally to assemble.

These words were laden with an acute sorrow which has not been dimmed by the separation of more than a half century since the early stages of home transference among members of the family. Loyal, liberal, wise, she had been the center of the circle when counsel was needed. Never a better woman, few have ever been her equal. Not only the loved ones, but the world has been enriched by her having lived; is made the poorer by her going.

ATTEND FUNERAL IN ROME

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Neville were in Rome last week to attend the funeral of her uncle, Judge William Joseph Nunnally. Judge Nunnally, retired Rome attorney and former judge of Floyd city court and one-time legislator, was in his 84th year. He was the son of Mary Bruce Nunnally and Dr. G. A. Nunnally, a Baptist minister. He was graduated from Mercer University in 1881 and studied law under the former Governor Henry McDaniel in Monroe. He was admitted to the bar in 1884. He was one of the oldest members of the First Baptist church, and for many years president and teacher of the men's class, the Scrap Iron class.

Judge Nunnally was a Mason and a Shriner and a member of many other civic, social and fraternal organizations. He was always generous and public spirited, and did much for the pleasure, comfort and education of others. At one time he maintained four scholarships at Shorter College.

Judge Nunnally was married three times. His first wife was Miss Estelle Echols, of Social Circle. They had two children who died in infancy. Later he married Miss Clarkie Lee, of Chicanauga. After her death he married the widow of his brother, A. H. Nunnally, the former Jesse Stafford.

Funeral services were conducted by Dr. Burton Stephens, pastor of the First Baptist church, and Dr. Paul Cousins, president of Shorter College. The Rome bar association acted as honorary pallbearers.

COUNTY HAS HUGE HOME REPAIR JOB

Estimated Total Runs To High Flyers To Needs Of Bulloch Home Owners

More than $671,000 is expected to be spent during the next five years by Bulloch county home owners on remodeling and repair work.

The year 1946 promises to inaugurate one of the greatest eras in American history for home repairs and modernization, according to estimates released by the Title Council of America. "Few developments will contribute more to employment and general prosperity in any community," according to R. E. Jordan, chairman of the Council's Residential Construction Committee.

Because of lack of materials and manpower during the war, majority of the county's 6,332 dwelling units are in need of some kind of repair or remodeling work. Kitchen improvements and modernization of bathrooms, installation of tiled showers and in some homes addition of a second bath top the nation's list of most wanted major improvements, Jordan said.

Outside paint jobs are needed on more than 50 per cent of homes, and addition of rooms and construction of porches also rank high in remodeling plans, according to the report. New roofing and heating plants are required by many dwellings.

Home owners in Georgia will spend an estimated $4,655,000 and those of the nation more than $5,500,000, 000 for major repairs alone in the next five years, according to Jordan. Ample funds, at low interest charges, are available for such work through commercial banks, savings and loan associations, credit unions and mutual savings banks, he pointed out.

When Grandpa Was a Boy

he spent most of a Saturday going to town and back in a buggy. We can pretty nearly span the continent in that time now.

The horse and buggy are gone; the rail fence is gone, but human nature is still much the same. In these days, as in those, friendships count in business.

We are proud of our long list of friends on this New Year of 1946—a list that has been growing steadily with the years—and want to express this word of thanks as we send you our New Year greetings.

Twelve guests were present.

As another year comes to a close and a New Year dawns we pause for a moment to look backward as well as forward. We are happy in the thought that we have made so many new friends in 1945 and retained so many old ones.

Looking forward to 1946, we pledge anew our determination to give you the best value and service possible.

WE SAY NOW, AS SO OFTEN BEFORE, HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL!

TRAFFIC RECORDS SLIGHTLY BETTER

State-Wide Traffic Deaths Decreased During Christmas Holidays, Records Show

Atlanta, Dec. 29.—The reports of fatalities made the public extremely conscious of the driving hazards and caused an amount of caution not usually exercised. This caution was exercised by both drivers and pedestrians and they deserve full credit for this decrease.

"Past experiences indicate we can expect traffic accidents to increase in the winter months from 10 to 25 percent over the summer level," said Director Williams. "With the release of the rationing and the average car about eight years old, January and February accidents will soar higher than ever unless motorists drive with more than ordinary caution," he continued.

The principal causes of winter traffic accidents are slippery roads and poor visibility. Traction is reduced on icy, wet, or muddy road surfaces and poor visibility results from long hours of darkness, fogged windshields and rain.

During January of last year, 51 persons were killed in Georgia traffic accidents. The greater number of rural accidents occurred during the hours of dusk and darkness. Reports also indicate that one out of three of the violations reported was for driving at a speed too fast for existing conditions.

To protect yourself against added hazards of winter driving, Director Williams asks that all motorists observe the following rules:

1. Be sure your car is safe to drive. Know that your steering mechanism, brakes, tires, windshield wipers, lights and exhaust system are in the best possible condition.
2. Adapt your driving to prevailing road conditions, keeping in mind the condition of your tires and age of vehicle. On icy or wet, muddy surfaces the car is always near the skidding point, even 20 miles per hour is often too fast.
3. Follow other vehicles at a safe distance. It takes three to eleven times as far to stop on wet, muddy pavements.

4. On slippery pavements apply brakes with a light pressure until point of skidding is impending, then release and apply over in like manner. If skid starts, turn the wheels in the direction the rear is skidding.
5. Slow down extra far in advance of intersections, curves and hills.
6. Give hand signals for intended stops or turns even further in advance than in other seasons. Of course these signals must be given outside of the car.

7. Keep windshields and windows clear and clean. Remember, you must see danger to avoid it.
8. Slow down after sundown. Use lower headlight beams in rain, fog, meeting traffic and in the incorporate limits of any city or town.

9. Remember the danger of carbon-monoxide and always provide some fresh air within the car.
10. Give pedestrians plenty of room and be especially alert for the unprovoked actions of children and the handicaps of elderly persons. Hours of darkness greatly increase pedestrian hazards.
11. When you are a pedestrian do not forget the problems confronting the car driver. Before stepping out in front of a car be sure the car has stopped and the driver has seen you.

Colored Farmers Meet At Pope's Academy

The negro farmers of the Pope's Academy community met at the school center Sunday evening for the purpose of forming a Farm Bureau. The meeting was well attended and many farmers were eager to understand the purpose, meaning and requirements of the organization. This was explained by negro county agent M. M. Martin. After the explanation all farmers present joined, some paid in full, while others paid part of the fee, showing their willingness to support this farmer organization.

The officers for that chapter were as follows: President, Isaiah Lee; vice-president, Willie Smith; secretary, Dewey Lee; assistant secretary, Jason Drummond; and treasurer, Rufus Lester. All members pledged support in getting every farmer in that community to join the organization. Our motto is, "Keep Bulloch County in the Lead." We realize that this can only be done by every farmer playing his part.

The fingertip veil was attached to a headband of red and orange blossoms, the orange blossoms having been worn by the bride's mother on her wedding veil. She carried a bridal bouquet centered with a white orchid and showered with swansons. Her only jewelry was a diamond pin which belonged to her maternal grandmother, the late Mrs. Mary Armstrong.

Mrs. Groover, mother of the bride, was dressed in light blue marquisette and jersey trimmed in gold sequins and wore a purple orchid. Mrs. Hill, mother of the groom, wore a purple orchid on her light blue gown.

Following the ceremony a beautiful reception was held at the home of Mrs. Groover. The exquisitely appointed table was covered with a red lace cloth. White satin bows tied to clusters of white painted berries and white gladioli were on each corner and white tapers in five branched silver candelabra were placed on each side of the three-tiered cake topped with bride and groom and surrounded by dainty fern and white berries, which gladioli was used elsewhere in the home. Mrs. J. E. Donehoo, Mrs. Cecil Brannen and Mrs. Eugene DeLoach, great aunts of the bride, and Mrs. Frank Grimes, another aunt, stood at the two front doors to greet the guests. Mrs. G. C. Coleman Jr. and Miss Helen Rowe kept the bride's book, and punch, cakes, nuts and candies were served by Mrs. Bob Darby, Mrs. Willie Wilkinson, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman, Mrs. George Mullings and Miss Maxine Foy.
